LOCAL BRIEFS—

An office room for rent on second floor at Dodd's corner. See advertisement.

Just received, a choice lot of dried peaches and apples, at R. H. Weathers'.

No extra charge made at R. B. Andrews & Co.'s for extra large sizes in selling the Wamsutta dress shirts. Six for only $7.50.

The valuable building lots advertised for sale to day at the Courthouse by Mr. Geo. Little, Trustee, will be sold on the 9th inst., on the premises. See advertisement.

A good fitting shirt is a great luxury. This the reason why the Wamsutta dress shirts, sold by R. B. Andrews & Co. for fifteen dollars per dozen, is such a favorite.

R. H. Weathers, opposite Sam Haywood's shop, Wilmington street, advertises to have the cheapest groceries, the best N. C. Corn and Rye whiskey, Southampton and Apple Brandy and sweet cider.

Capt. A. B. Andrews, who has recently been appointed Superintendent of the N. C. and W. N. C. Railroads, left this city Saturday evening for Richmond to meet Col. Buford, in order to assume the duties of his new position.

The Mayor's levee yesterday morning had a small attendance. The city treasury was enriched to the extent of $15 and a negro named John Campbell was sent to jail for stealing cloth from J. Kreth.

We noticed a gentleman, a popular merchant of this city, who was so hurried by the fire on Sunday morning that he put in an appearance half-shaved. He did not even take time to wipe the lather from his face.

R. B. Andrews & Co. guarantee the Wamsutta dress shirt to be equal in quality, style and fit to any in the market at any price sold for only $15.00 per dozen or six for $7.50.

Newspaper advertising promotes trade, for even in the dullest times advertisers secure by far the larger share of what is being done.—John Manning.

ALMOST A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the alarm of fire was spread throughout the city, and as the smoke arose from the very heart of the business part of the town, and the wind was blowing a heavy gale at the time, but a little while elapsed before a large crowd of citizens were congregated in front of the Market House, when it was ascertained that the bakery of Mr. T. J. Walker, in the rear of the row of wooden stores on the west side of Fayetteville St., occupied by Messrs. Fents, Lumsden, Walker and Mrs. Leopold, was being burned down. The different fire companies were prompt in responding, and Victor and Bucket companies (colored) and the Hook and Ladder commenced fighting manfully the flames, while the Rescue steamer was but little behind in reaching the scene, it being found necessary for this engine to draw water from the cistern at the intersection of Davie and Fayetteville streets, some two squares off. By the manly efforts of the firemen the flames were gotten under control before they reached the wooden frames surrounding them, and what would have been a most destructive fire was thus prevented. At the first sight, considering the high wind, it was thought almost impossible to save the wooden buildings in front of the fire, and had they once caught on fire, with the limited supply of water at the command of the firemen, it is quite certain the heart of the city would have been destroyed.

Will not the citizens of Raleigh take warning from this ere it be too late, and place a sufficiency of water at the command of our noble firemen to resist the dreaded flames. Else we shall wake some morniag and find Raleigh in ashes.

In connection with the above, we are permitted to publish the following paper which was being circulated yesterday evening:

We the undersigned citizens of Raleigh tender our hearty thanks to the citizens and firemen of Raleigh generally for their active and successful efforts on Sunday, on the occasion of the burning of T. J. Walker's Bakery on Fayetteville St., in averting what at one time threatened to be a most disastrous conflagration, and we do most especially thank the members of the Victor Fire Company and Bucket Company for their timely and energetic labors. And in token of our appreciation of the labors of these companies on this occasion, we have deposited with Mr. Robt. Orr the following sums of mony for their benefit

To which we found appended the names of Messrs. H. Mahler, A. W. Frapps, Robert Orr, Lawrence & Winston, T. H. Briggs, G. T. Stronach, J. C. S. Lumsden, Isaac Oettinger, L. Rosenthal and Mrs. R. Leopold, footing up the sum of $36, and we hope to see other names added to it to-day, as the energetic and earnest manner in which these colored men work at the fires in this city is deserving both praise and reward.

A YOUNG LADY SEVERELY INJURED AT WELDON.—During the Fair at Weldon last week Miss Ida Lundy, of Petersburg, accidentally fell down one of the flights of steps leading from the grand stand and was severely hurt. She was at once conveyed to the Weldon Hotel and received medical treatment. A Petersburg correspondent of a Richmond paper, under date of Saturday, says of her condition:

Intelligence received to-day from Weldon represents that Miss Ida Lundy, of this city, who was injured by a fall at the Fair grounds Thursday afternoon, is very low, and scarcely expected to recover. Her injuries are internal, and her physicians think that death would certainly result from any attempt to remove her to Petersburg.

AN ALARM OF FIRE.—The alarm of fire last night was occasioned by the accidental burning of a mattress bed in one of the rooms of the Howell House in this city. It was discovered in time to prevent any damage other than to the bed and was extinguished by a couple of buckets of water and before the fire companies reached the scene. It is supposed to have originated from a pipe which a gentleman had been smoking in the room. We reached the house just in time to lose "a first-class item," but were pleased to see Mr. Howell escape with no greater damage than the loss of a mattress and a few bed-clothing.

THE SECURITY AND LIFE ANNUITY INSURANCE COMPANY.—By reference to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that Mr. T. W. Hutson, late of South Carolina, has become general agent for this State of this popular company, recently represented by Major Hay. Mr. Hutson has been with this company in South Carolina since 1868, and is thoroughly conversant with its workings. We feel confident that no more efficient agent can be found in the State than Mr. Hutson will prove, and his company ranks with the best operating in the South.

No lady need worry herself cutting, fitting and making shirts (the fit of which, when done, is not satisfactory to herself nor the one for whom they are intended) when she can save all this time and trouble by buying the Wamsutta shirts from R. B. Andrews & Co., at fifteen dollars per dozen, or six for $7.50, which they guarantee to fit perfectly or no sale.

Dr. Mullen, a member of the General Assembly from Camden county, was in the city yesterday.

Capt. F. M. Wooten reports that his express is now in successful operation on the Western North Carolina Railroad.

The Sheriffs of the State will have to crowd the State Treasurer this month. Only three have as yet put in an appearance.

Mr. W. R. Richardson yesterday assumed the duties of the office of the Keeper of the Capitol, vice Henry Miller resigned.

One of the many reasons why R. B. Andrews sell the Wamsutta shirts at only fifteen dollars per dozen is that they are bought and sold exclusively for cash.

The U. S. District Court opens in Wilmington to-day. Judge Brooks, District Attorney Badger and Marshal Hill left this city yesterday morning to hold the same.

Z. W. Gill keeps on hand the same brands of whiskies which obtained for him the first premium at the State Fair in 1874. They cannot be excelled. Parties wanting medical whiskies should give him a trial.

The Penitentiary authorities will in a few days forward a hundred more convicts to work on the W. N. C. Railroad. Henry Miller, Esq., will be placed in charge of these convicts on the road.

There is no longer a necessity of our sending orders North for Gents' shirts, when the best Wamsutta dress shirts can be bought from R. B. Andrews & Co., for fifteen dollars per dozen. They are warranted equal in all respects to any in the market.

For lengthened sweetness long drawn out go to "Royster's Candy Emporium and Confectionary," on Fayetteville St. The force in manufactory has been largely augmented, ten hands being now employed, under the direction of Mr. Leonard, who has the deserved reputation of being au fait in every department of his business. Give them a call and try some of their delicious cocoanut and chocolate candy.

BRADLEY'S SEA FOWL GUANO.—We invite especial attention to the double-column advertisement upon our fourth page this morning of the Sea Fowl Guano, of which W. C. & A. B. Stronach, of this city, are local agents and Frank Stronach general State agent. This fertilizer has won a reputation throughout this State second to none other used. The Messrs. Stronach would be pleased to serve their customers and the public generally.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JAMES F. JORDAN.—The funeral of the late James F. Jordan, who died suddenly Saturday evening last, took place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. M. Atkinson officiating. At the conclusion of the service at the church the remains were taken to the Oakwood Cemetery for interment.

SURPASSED BY NONE.—The shield bosoms of the Wamsutta shirt are three ply, made of the very best Irish linen, and sold for fifteen dollars per dozen or six for $7.50.

ORANGE COURT.—The fall term of the Superior Court for Orange county commenced yesterday. We learn that the criminal docket is much larger than usual. There are two cases of attempted rape and one for rape. These occurrences are becoming so common in this State that we hope the perpetrators may meet at once the severest punishment of the law.

$15 vs. $26.—To pay twenty-six dollars per dozen for dress shirts, when you can buy them just as good in all respects from R. B. Andrews & Co. for fifteen dollars, is not keeping up with the times.

MATRIMONIAL—October proved no bad month for marrying in this county. The Register of Deeds issued during the month 41 marriage licenses, 22 of which were for whites and 19 for colored couples. What will November bring forth in this "union" world!

MESSRS. KINGSLEY & ASHLEY.—These gentlemen, architects and builders, having withdrawn from the firm of Betts, Allen & Co., propose continuing in the building business in this city. Any one desiring to build or repair buildings of any description should read their advertisement in another column.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP.—The firm of Messrs. Betts, Allen & Co. having been dissolved by the the withdrawal of Messrs. Kingsley and Ashley, Messrs. Betts & Allen will continue their business of building at their old stand. See advertisement in another column.

We invite attention to the special notice of Mr. J. Osborne, who keeps every kind of feed at his store near the Central Depot. Mr. Wm. Gattis having withdrawn from the concern, all the business of the concern must be settled with Mr. Osborne.

A BIG RUN ON O's.—We saw registered at the Yarboro yesterday Messrs. Orren Williams, Oscar Britton, Otis Stilman, Orren Smith and Oliver Steel.

Warmer and partly cloudy weather will prevail to-day.

Rumor has it that Mrs. Oates, with a large troupe, will pay us a visit this winter.

Sixty-five mortgage and lien bonds were registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of this county last month.

Mr. I. F. Dortch and lady left this city yesterday for Goldsboro, the home of Mr. Dortch, where they will reside for the future.

The receipts of cotton in this market yesterday were light, but the market opened firm and continued so throughout the day at 12½ cents.

All are cordially invited, especially the ladies, to call at R. B. Andrews & Co.'s and examine the celebrated Wamsutta dress shirt. Sold for $15 per dozen or six for $7.50.

Oysters are obtained fresh at Tim Lee's every evening. He furnishes them on the half-shell, and families wanting them to roast or eat raw should supply themselves.

From fifty to one hundred per cent. saved by buying the Wamsutta dress shirts from R. B. Andrews & Co. at fifteen dollars per dozen; call and be convinced of the fact.

"SUSPECTED INSURANCE COMPANIES.—United States Fire Insurance Company, of Washington, D. C., International and Capital City Fire Insurance Companies, of Washington, D. C., Continental Fire Insurance Company, of Martinsburg, West Virginia, Grange Fire Insurance Company, of Huntington, West Virginia, and the Arlington Fire Insurance Company, of Parkersburg, West Virginia."

We copy the above from the New York Underwriter for September, one of the largest and most reliable Insurance Journals in the country. We do not know that any of the above companies are or have been doing business in this city or State; but the Underwriter is high authority, and Fire Insurance concerns our merchants, farmers and business men generally in no little degree, and we publish the above by way of anticipating their interest if we may so express it, without being ourselves sufficiently advised either to endorse or deny.

We also copy from page 485 of the Underwriter the following very sensible paragraph: Plenty of companies are to day as reckless as they can be, and are reckless because in case of a great fire they must die, and being corporations die without future accountability."

In addition to the known reliable fire companies operating in this State from other States and countries, we have three good home fire insurance companies doing business in this State—the North Carolina Home, of this city, the Old North State, Warrenton, and the Pamlico, of Tarboro. Our people should encourage them; they are careful in selecting their risks and pay their losses promptly. Their officers are well known to our people, and possess their entire confidence. Let the people of North Carolina give all the support possible to these home institutions and make them as remunerative to the State as other companies have proven to other States.

THE MATCHLESS SCUPPERNONG.—This fine grape being a universal favorite, because so large, luscious and satisfying, we copy the subjoined remarks from an exchange:

"The grape is indigenous to Georgia and the Carolinas. It will not grow north of 35 deg. north, at an altitude of 1,500 feet beyond 34 deg. Its great value consists in its entire freedom from rot and mildew, or being killed by frost, as it does not bloom till late in June, when other grapes are nearly grown, consequently it is in no danger of hybriezing—always bears a full crop, and needs no expensive trenching of the ground, nor pruning, and its yield is enormous. Dr. Antisell, chemist in the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, reports that its wine capacity equals that of any other grape 14 per cent. of alcohol. Messrs. Garrett & Co., of North Carolina, say they have wine from this grape which bears comparison with the very best Johannisberger, now selling in New York at $8 per gallon, and they made in 1870, from five acres of twelve year old vines, six thousand gallons.

The Lord Raleigh vine on Roanoke Island, which was three inches in diameter in 1610, now covers nearly two acres, and produces about fifty barrels annually. It has over forty auxiliary trunks, like the bangan. One other vine, in Tyrrell county, west of Albemarle sound, covers three acres, and yields over sixty barrels of forty gallons each. Whilst all other grapes grow in bunches, these grow in clusters of two or more. It will not grow from the cuttings, but must be rooted, by covering up the branches in summer.

The scuppernong is unquestionably the most profitable grape known in this or any other country, as it requires no science or skill whatever, either in its culture or wine making. Mr. Van Buren, in his work on the scuppernong grape, says: "My vines at five years old gave half a bushel each; at six years three bushels, and at ten years old from forty to fifty bushels each—equal to nearly 2,000 gallons per acre!" What will his vines yield in fifty years? or one hundred? or, like the Lord Raleigh vine, which is now about three hundred years old, annually give more than $15,000! These figures seem fabulous, but we refer the reader to the facts. In California, in the West and North, and in all Europe, vine culture bears no comparison in yield or profits."

Worth the man dressmaker, drives out every day on the Bois de Boulogne. He wears kid gloves of a peculiar lilac hue, and always takes care to put one foot up on the front seat so as to disclose silk hose of the same delicate shade as his gloves.

PASSING COMPLIMENTS.—"Dogs, Curs, Spaniels, Whelps, Liars," are a few of the epithets bestowed upon editors of newspapers at Lexington Court on several occasions, last week by John M. Cloud, that political excrescence of sin and corruption, who disgraces the bench of the Seventh Judicial district. These epithets are bestowed by a Judge who has spent ten dollars for whiskey where he has spent one for law books, a man who has grown hoary in sin, and whose pathway through life is marked with the evidences of his immorality and debauchery, a man whose occupancy of the bench is a sad commentary upon the looseness of the times and the demeralization of the party that placed him there, and who holds his position, not from the people, but at the hands of an impeached and deposed chief magistrate, and retains it by the corrupt decision of an interested and partizan Court, and whose ignorance of the law makes his occupancy of the bench a burlesque upon justice, a shame to the State, and an outrage upon the people.—Winston Sentinel.

PERFUMES.—Few people are aware of the commercial importance of perfumes, and of the extent to which their manufacture is now carried on. The flower harvest of the district of Var, in the southeast of France, includes no less than 1,475,000 pounds of orange blossoms, 530,000 pounds of roses, 100,000 pounds of jasmine, 75,000 pounds of violets, 45,000 pounds of acacia, 30,000 pounds of geranium, 24,000 pounds of tuberoses and 5,000 pounds of jonquil. A well-known perfume manufacturer at Cannes uses annually 140,000 pounds of rose leaves alone, and other perfume-laden flowers in proportion. It is remarkable that the perfumes obtained from the flowers named above are the types of nearly all flower odors. Thus, if we blend jasmine and orange flowers, the result is a scent like sweet pea; and when jasmine and tuberose are mixed the perfume is like that of the hyacinth. Violet and tuberose resemble lily of the valley. By blending primary odors we also obtain all the various bouquets and nosegays, such as "frangipanni," "white roses" and "sweet daphne."

A JOKE ON JOAQUIN MILLER.—The Chicago Tribune is responsible for the following:

"There is a story told of Joaquin Miller, the poet, that when he was at Barnum's Hotel, Broadway and Twentieth street, a few weeks ago, he wrote to a friend in New Jersey, and ended the letter: 'Come and see me whenever you can. I am at Barnum's.' The friend, who does not appear to have been familiar with the names of our city hotels, answered: 'I am sorry you have commenced to exhibit yourself. If you had stuck to literature, you would have made your mark and fortune. Whereabouts is the show now?'"

MISS JULIA JACKSON.—One of the most touching incidents of the day, was the action of a battle-scarred veteran, who had followed Jackson from the breaking out of the war to end of his career. He told Dr. Hoge that he wanted the privilege of kissing Jackson's only child, to which both Mrs. Jackson and the daughter consented. The old veteran kissed the blushing child, and departed, satisfied that the privilege he had enjoyed was "glory enough for one day."—Richmond Letter to Lynchburg News.

They have dubbed Sam Bowles "the great American nominator," and the Chicago Times publishes a romantic episode of his career: The other day Sam Bowles went to church in Springfield, Massachusetts, and, feeling the effects of his severe editorial labor through the week, went to napping. By-and-by he was awakened by the preacher, who struck his desk and shouted: "Who shall be be able to stand up in the presence of the Lord on that awful day?" And Sam Bowles, rising in his pew, remarked: "Charles Francis Adams is the only man that can do it, and I nominate him for the position!"

HOW HE TRAPPED HER.—A Fifth Ward widow moved into her new house the other day, and her first six callers were lightning rod agents. She bluffed them off one by one, but the seventh came he said:

"I don't claim that a rod will protect the house, but I do say that if I was looking for a second wife I'd never marry a widow who didn't have a lightning rod on her house. And that's the way all rich men think."

"You may put two of 'em!" she promptly replied, "and be sure they are conspicuous, too!"—Detroit Free Press.

Bitters are too frequently a mere mixture of a few impure drugs, water, and a little of the poorest whiskey, and their only effect is to weaken an already overtasked system. There are a few exceptions to this, notable among them is one of which we can speak from long personal experience. We refer to the celebrated Home Stomach Bitters, which we have invariably found to be strengthening and invigorating.

COMPREHENDED.—A French gentleman, who supposed he had mastered the English language, was sadly puzzled one day when a friend looked at him, and said, "How do you do?" "Do vat?" "I mean how do you find yourself?" "Saire, I never loses myself." "But how do you feel?" "Smoot—you just feel me."

A Chinaman's Verdict on a negro ball which he attended the other night: "Too muchee hoppee round, like hell!"

ENFEEBLING PURSUITS.—Nature intended that we should use our legs freely, and revenges herself upon those who constantly sit at their daily vocations indoors by debarring them of that robust health which usually falls to the share of those who labor on foot in the open air, and very frequently inflicts upon them diseases and premature infirmities which they might have avoided by a more active life. Persons who become enfeebled in consequence of sedentary habits or occupations cannot do better than to resort to a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of recovering lost strength. Nor should they postpone a recourse to this supreme tonic and preventive of physical decay longer than is absolutely necessary, as weakness is too often the precursor of disease. The Bitters are also invaluable as a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, urinary and rheumatic complaints.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these columns which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons who violate this rule will have their communications consigned to the waste-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year, postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

THE whole country awaits with much anxiety the result of the election to-day in the several States. The greatest interest, however, is centered on Pennsylvania and New York, as in the former both parties have worked with an earnestness scarcely ever equaled before in that State.

IN an editorial article Sunday morning, concerning the New York election to-day, we were made to commit the ridiculous blunder of classing Tilden and John Kelly as candidates. We should have been recorded as speaking of the Tilden and Kelly tickets.

COLORADO has just elected its delegates to a constitutional convention which will adopt a constitution to be voted upon next June, which being certified to the President it will be his duty to declare Colorado admitted as a State of the Union, and she will take part in the Presidental election. She will have three electoral votes.

IT is quite amusing to hear the Republican press of the State charge the Democratic party of North Carolina with being an enemy to civil government and a party of fraud. The innocence of the Newbern Times in this respect is worthy of a certain heathen Chinee that Nye once encountered. Oh, wonderful age of virtue that, when the Devil goes forth preaching morality and honesty!

THE New York Sun says that Gen. Spinner resigned because his accounts would not bear examination. The fussy old gentleman claimed to be the pink of honesty, and was in a peck of trouble because some one had misplaced a package of $40,000, claiming that this was the first mistake that had ever befallen him. The Sun now says that his successor shows that items amounting to $765,965 which for years have figured as cash, are really deficits. Never call a man happy until after his death, or honest till his accounts have been investigated.

CALIFORNIA COTTON.

Not content with gold and silver, silks, wines, oils and honey, grains fruits and vegetables, in all of which she challenges the world, California steps forth as a rival in the production of cotton. Experiments have been made on a large scale; that is to say on tracts of from forty to one hundred and sixty acres, and the result is the production of a staple of peculiar whiteness and fineness, and a yield of from half a bale to a bale of 500 pounds, to the acre. The culture is confined at present to the uplands, the price of labor being so high that it is too expensive to contend with the luxuriant growth of weeds of the low lands.

THE ELECTION in Ohio has settled nothing definitely. The voting was too close for that, a majority of less than six thousand out of a vote of five hundred thousand shows that a respectable majority might have been changed into a dominant majority by the most simple circumstance. Even honest voting might have changed the result. And the more sagacious men of the Republican party are too wise to believe the voting is so secure as to entitle them to enjoy it in ease. They know that farther work is before them in other States. They know that the Democracy, of Ohio though disappointed, is neither disheartened nor conquered; and they know that the Democracy of other States are fully aware of the causes of defeat, and also of the intrinsic strength of the party.

The Democracy of Ohio, fought upon the issue that since it is inevitable that the money of the country is and must be for some time to come paper which is a credit currency, it should be the best paper possible and the credit the soundest. It maintained the idea that resumption of specie payments at the present time, and that the necessary contraction looking to that end, was ruinous to every interest.

That question is still open for other States to discuss, and we are very much mistaken if the result that popular instincts and popular necessities do not prevail over the interests of the bondholders working under the fantastic idea of saving the national honor.

STONEWALL JACKSON.

One of the most just, generous and discriminative tributes paid to the memory of this hero we find in the Cincinnati Enquirer of the 28th. Laying aside all sectional feeling, that journal criticizes with cosmopolitan liberality, and accords that justice which a narrow prejudice might withhold, and recognizes that genius which sectional jealousy might deny.

In truth, the character of Stonewall Jackson lifts him up above the narrow confines of State or even national limits. His military genius elevates him among the great soldiers of the world, among that select few who belong to the universal history of mankind. He was one of the few born soldiers with whom the conduct of battles was an inspiration and whose prophetic eye always fixed upon the issue of a struggle as a certainty. Such men are too rare to be confined within the narrow pages of local history, too grand to be repressed by the weight of sectional hostility. They assert their rights to universal appreciation and honor.

It is gratifying, nevertheless, to find so unreserved a tribute from a section so recently inflamed with resentment, and so likely after the subsidence of passion to assigne so high a position to a late enemy.

But as the Enquirer says, "we are rapidly approaching the point when all of us, both North and South, can honor and respect a great name, no matter on which side it came to distinction."

MOODY AND SANKEY.

Newspaper readers may now expect to have their eyes saluted at every turn of the page with the above names. They have begun the same career in this country that made them so conspicuous in England.

Revivalists, and enthusiastic in their purpose, there were many inclined to decry them as charlatans profiting by the excitement they aroused. Ignorant men, comparatively they are, and working by instrumentalities the best calculated to rouse the sympathies of the ignorant and the emotional, by prayer, by loud and passionate exhortation, by music. But their influence was not expended altogether upon the ignorant, and the most zealous and exclusive church men of England were not slow to see that their piety was real, their zeal sincere and their capacity for good enormous, and they readily lent their co-operation to bring about the great work of religious regeneration.

There are large masses in all large communities upon whom the light of the Gospel never shines, masses who never have access to houses of worship, and to whom no substitute has been supplied; men to whom no one has stooped to carry the Good word, and who can emphatically deny that "the poor have the Gospel preached to them." Among such these evangelists began their work, and among them an incalculable amount of good was done. But their labors advanced and expanded until they embraced a higher class, and in returning to America, they begin with a much higher grade of audiences than they had in England.

No class in this country is above or below Christian enlightenment. It would not be too much to say that in the field in which these men have begun to work, that corruption is as rife among the higher as the other classes. The blight of war and its consequences have deadened the sensibilities of conscience among all grades of society.

The time has come for an awakening, Moody and Sankey have seized the occasion, and however endnring the consequences may be, it is evident that a storm of religious excitement such as was never before seen is about to sweep over the North. The effect may be short. It will at least give men time to think and pause in a career which is rapidly destroying both individual and national character,

How Gov. Kemper's Speech, on the Occasion of the Inauguration of the Jackson Statue, was Received in New York.

A correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, writing from New York, thus speaks of the manner in which Gov. Kemper's recent address at the inauguration of the Jackson statue was received in New York. Says the writer:

The Virginians resident in New York, of whom there are many thousands, were electrified by the splendid oration of Governor Kemper on the occasion of unveiling Foley's statue of Jackson on yesterday. As one of the humblest of the sons of Virginia living in this city, I cannot withhold the expression of the highest admiration for the noble sentiments for the gallant Governor. Without detracting one iota from the eloquent oration of Dr. Hoge, I must confess to a feeling of profound gratification at the manly and brilliant utterances of Virginia's noble Governor. The oration was worthy of the State, worthy of the august occasion which called it forth, worthy to be perpetuated like the statue of Jackson—in eternal bronze. For elegant taste, manliness of sentiment, vigor and beauty of expression, and for lofty and impassioned patriotism, this oration will take rank with the most popular and polished speeches of Patrick Henry.

Virginians here are not alone in expressions of delight over the Governor's speech. Northern men vie with us in sounding its praise, and particularly that portion which administers such a well-merited and cutting rebuke to Grant's poor "apology"-speech at Des Moines. Three times three for the Governor.

GAS AS FUEL—BRIGHT PROSPECTS OF THE EXPERIMENT UP AT PITTSBURGH.—[From the Commercial of the 26th.]—The experiment of conveying natural gas from a well in Buttler county, seventeen miles distans to the iron mils of Spang Chalfant & Co., at Bennett station two miles lower down, on the Western Pennsylvania railroad, a few miles above Allegheny City, was successfully tested last night and it is not risking anything to say that the great desideratum of utilizing the waste gas of the oil regions and thus saving immense quantities of coal has been accomplished. This cheaper fuel must very materially cheapen the cost of production and thus a new means of wealth and a new element of competition have been opened to Pittsburgh manufacturers.

The National Gas Company had succeeded in putting down a six-inch line of pipe at a cost of over $100,000, and it only remained to test its practical utility. That was done last night At 5 o'clock the gas was let on at the well, where the pressure is about 110 pounds to the square inch. At Etna the six inch pipe had been tapped, and three-inch pipes inserted for covering the gas to a proper distance for burning. These jets—if such immense volumes may properly be so designated—were some four feet apart, and when lighted the flames shot up from twenty to thirty feet high. There was a variable wind blowing, and at times the breeze was so stiff that it flattered out the gas, and caused the flow from the several burners to blend together, making a sheet of flame some fifteen feet wide and twenty-five feet high. At Bennett's a derrick had been erected some seventy-five feet high, and three two inch pipes were carried up to the top and lighted. The flames could be seen for miles around, and excited great attention and curiosity. The gas came out with such force that it did not ignite down to the pipe, a space of two feet being visible between the burner and the white flame.

It was clearly demonstrated that the gas can be successfully conveyed, and its applications as fuel has long since been satisfactorily tested.

PIUS IX—The Pope's household consists of 537 persons, the chief of whom are Cardinal Antonelli, the major-domo, the master of the chamber, the grand almoner, the secretary, the steward, the governor, General Kanzler, and five chamberlains. There are twenty persons in the secretary's office, 15 in the administration of the palace, and 8 in the secret printing house. The Pope has one groom of the chamber and 6 body servants. The apostolic chamber is composed of a president, 23 couriers, 3 servants and 3 orderlies. Cardinal Antonelli and General Knazler have a suite of 48 persons, while the Swiss Guard and the Pontifical geudarmerie number 200.

A dispatch from London announces that her Royal Highness, the Dutchess of Edinburgh, was safely delivered of a daughter at half past ten Friday morning, Dr. Farre being in attendance. The mother and child are doing as well, etc. This incident increases the tally of the Queen's grandchildren to twenty-seven, twenty-four of whom are still alive, and that of her total living progeny to thirty-three, including three unmarried children and the Princess Louise, who is married but without family. The Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh were married at St. Petersburg, January 23, 1874, and their first child, a son, was born to them upon the 15th of the following October. The cost of maintaining a limited monarchy in England is apparently increasing at an alarming ratio.

Miss Sallie Stevenson, youngest daughter of Senator John W. Stevenson, of Covington, Kentucky, was married on the 19th instant, in that city, to Mr. Edward Colston (son of the late Hon. Edward Colston, of Berkley county, Virginia,) who served with distinction in the Confederate army, and who now occupies a high position as a lawyer at the Cincinnati bar.

Extraordinary Opportunity for the Relief of the Afflicted.

The surgeons of the National Surgical Institute, located at Indianapolis, Indiana, have finally yielded to the many urgent appeals to visit the South Three or more of the surgeons will be at the Pavilion Hotel, Charleston, S. C., November 3, 4, 5 and 6, 1875.

They will have with them a great amount of surgical apparatus, appliances, etc., and competent assistants and workmen to change, fit, and make such apparatus as may be required. They will come especially prepared to treat all surgical cases: Paralysis, all kinds of Deformities of the Face, Spine, and Limbs, Diseased Joints, Diseased Eyes, Catarrh, Private Diseases, Piles, Fistula, etc. On account or the great expense attending such a trip, they will not make another; therefore, all who wish to avail themselves of the advantage of the Institute, without the long journey to Indianapolis, must do so at this time. No cases will be undertaken without a fair hope of relief. It is needless to say that the institution is entirely responsible, and the largest and most popular of the kind in America, curing thousands annually. Remember the time and place, and come early. Send to the Institute for circular.

On the 2d of August smoke was seen rising from the coals forming the cargo of the bark Aurelie, bound from Liverpool to La Plata, and on an iron test-rod being put between it came up red hot. The hatches were battered down and water poured in, but unavailingly. The fire burned seven days, during which the crew, fouateen in number, and the Captain's wife, were on the deck, with scanty provisions, amid stifling smoke. At length they had to take to their two boats, and then commenced five long days and nights of sleeplessness and starvation. The burning sun by day, and rain and cold by night, made endurance well nigh impossible. To add to the horrors while thus exposed, the captain's wife gave birth to a child. At length, when at the last extremity, the two boats, which had kept together, were seen and picked up by the ship Moonlight and taken to the Barbadoes.

President Orton, of the Western Union Telegraph, says that for all telegraphic purposes the English language is from 25 to 33 per cent. cheaper than the French, German or any other language, and that the economy of its use has been thoroughly established.

Mr. Tennyson is said to be writing a poem on the Prince of Wales' visit to India. His official poems, which number about half a dozen, have not been his most successful, but he has not often had as good a subject as this.

Miguel Cordova, a Spaniard in San Francisco, has one thousand finger rings from all quarters of the globe, representing every nation and area; the most valuable collection in the United States, if not in the world.

They say business is dull; sugar and coffee are selling slowly. Not so with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; we understand our druggist can hardly supply the demand.

The demand for these waters for transportation has been largely more than doubled in the last Ninety Days, with every prospect of an increased demand at the present prices. THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company

OF HARTFORD.

Incorporated in 1846

Total Income during 1874, $10,049,713.10

Total surplus returned to Policy-holders during 1874, $3,037,872.80

Average per cent surplus returned to policy-holders in 1874, 40.41 per cent

This percentage of surplus returned is much greater than that of any other company, and more than twice that of several leading ones. It is the legitimate and inevitable result of care in the selection of risks and high rate of interest received from well invested assets. As the annual cost of the insurance to the policy holder is regulated, not by the table rate charged but by the amount the Company is able to save and return to him from the premium paid, its later item is of the greatest importance. Manifestly the company which is able to return to its policy holders the most surplus premiums, furnishes the insurance at the lowest cost. And this the history of its policies shows the Connecticut Mutual is actually doing.

Total amount of Surplus Premiums returned from organization to Dec. 31st, 1874, ... $3,390,707.00
Surplus Premiums are returned annually commencing at the payment of the second premium.
Total amount of Claims paid from organization to Dec 31st, 1874, ... $20,200,971.00

THE DAILY NEWS.
TO-DAY.....NOVEMBER 2, 1875.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Richard Granger has revived the Washington Echo.

The Superior Court of Onslow county convened yesterday, also that of Orange and Halifax.

Sampson County Fair will commence to-morrow and last three days.

A suitable steamer has been provided to convey the veterans of Fort Fisher from Wilmington to the scene of their exploits on the occasion of their reunion next week.

An effort is being made to establish a cotton factory at Newberne. The Welch Hosiery mills, at Waterville, Conn., are moving on the matter in connection with the citizens of Newberne.

A negro named Joe Johnson was shot and killed in Bertie a few nights ago while engaged in stealing corn from the warehouse of Mr. N. D. Norman. The shooting was done by a negro man who was watching the house at the time.

The Rocky Mount Mail says that Sells's circus as a circus is a very good thing, but that the amount of swindling and stealing carried on in connection with it by the candy venders and other attendants was awful to behold. The heathen Chinee in all his innocence can practice nothing like it.

Mr. Lawrence Henderson, of Burke county, brother-in-law of the late Gov. Caldwell, has been made Conductor on the W. N. C. R. R., vice J. F. Denton. The Piedmont Press says it is rumored several other changes will be made by the new Board of Commissioners.

Gen. Robert Ransom, formerly of North Carolina, was elected on Thursday night Senior Vice President of the Virginia Division of the Association of the Army of Northern Virginia. The meeting was held in the Hall of the House of Delegates, Richmond, and Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and other distinguished personages were present.

The Albermarle Times says it is informed that the property of the Jamesville and Washington Railroad Company passed into the hands of a company of English capitalists who will at once complete the road to the town of Washington. This line when finished will be the beginning of a route from Norfolk to Charleston, S. C.

The Wilmington Journal, "for the benefit of the Raleigh NEWS" and the general public, says that the receipts of cotton at that port from the first of September up to last Friday inclusive, were 19,670 bales, against 1,663 bales for the same time last year, showing an increase this year over last of 7,597 bales in two months. We are glad to learn this fact, and hope Wilmington's prosperity as a cotton port may keep pace with the energy displayed by her business men.

A case of miscegenation was to have been heard before Justice Gardner at Wilmington yesterday. A negro man named James McIntyre was married to a white woman named Catharine Freeman, in New Hanover county, in September, 1873, and the two have since been living together as man and wife. The matter having been brought to the attention of Judge McKoy, he ordered the parties to be arrested, also that the Register of Deeds who issued the license be brought into Court.

The Editor of the Wilmington Post, one of the Commissioners upon the W. N. C. R. R., who has recently paid a visit to Asheville, says of that country:

"We could not but be struck by the beautiful scenery that presented itself to our view as we approached a mill on the Swannanoa late in the evening. The river lay 'a silver thread, with sunsets strung upon it thick, like pearls,' while repose and labor, the hush and quiet of the shadowy mountain sides and the hum of the rumbling old mill seemed to blend in the most exquisite harmony, while the walls of the old building and the exposed portions of the mill dam afforded no harsh contrast with the magnificent masses of variegated beauty in which they were placed.

"We found Asheville more beautiful than we had ever before seen it, for in death, it hath all seasons for its own, and at all seasons it is a beautiful place. On a plateau amid the mountains like a precious jewel on the bosom of a fair woman; and although the shriek of the locomotive whistle has never been heard there: and although it is twenty-five miles away from the nearest railroad, with high mountains intervening; yet are her merchants wide awake and prosperous, her stores large and well filled with every variety of goods, her church steeples many and the edifices beneath them commodious and comfortable; her hotels modern and ample in their appointments; with three live newspapers full of the news of the outside world; and well patronized by her merchants and business men; her men noble and generous and her women beautiful, stylish, refined and elegant. What more can we say of Asheville? And many of our readers have never been there, we assure them that one of the greatest pleasures of life may yet be in store for them, where from the rising of the sun above the "Beau Catcher" until his beams fade into twilight and darkness beyond old "Pisgah" yea, and until his effulgent glory adorns Beau Catcher again, can they enjoy the continual round of pleasure and happiness that their visit there will certainly afford them.

NOON DISPATCHES.

The United States, the Spanish Government and the Island of Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Nov, 1st—Since Caleb Cushing went to Madrid in the capacity of Minister of the United States, less than two years ago, there have been four different changes of the Spanish cabinet. These changes and the prevalence of civil war have affected and necessarily delayed the transaction of the business with which he was charged. The instructions he received from the government had reference entirely to the actual state of the Island of Cuba and its relation to the United States, as well as to Spain. He was also furnished with a selection in chronological order of the numerous dispatches which had passed between the two governments. From them he derived ample information, not only concerning the special questions which had arisen from time to time, but also respecting the general purposes and policy of the President in the premises. The discussion of the Spanish cabinets in reply to what is called in the late Madrid telegram the Washington note, has reference to the unsettled question between the two countries, the statement of them being from the verbage of the correspondence and presented in a comparatively brief memorandum. The exact points of this official paper cannot be ascertained, but they may be inferred from the views of the President, which form the basis of instructions to minister Cushing, and which show that the President regards the civil dissensions in Cuba and especially the sanguinary hostilities such as have been prevailing there for the last seven years as producing effects in the United States second in gravity only to those which they produce in Spain. In the meantime our political relation to Cuba is altogether anomalous, seeing that for any injury done to the United States or their citizens in Cuba we have no direct means of redress there, and can obtain it only by slow and circuitous action by way of Madrid. The ultimate issue of events in Cuba will be its independence, however that issue may be produced, whether by means of negotiation or as the result of military operations, or of one of those unexpected incidents which so frequently determine the fate of nations. The continuance of the insurrection grows day by day more insupportable to the United States, and while the attention of this government is fixed on Cuba in the interest of humanity by the horrors of civil war prevailing there, it cannot forbear to reflect that the existence of slave labor in Cuba and its influence over the feelings and interests of the peninsular Spaniards lie at the foundation of all the calamities which now afflict the Island; but slavery cannot long continue in Cuba, environed as that Island is by communities of emancipated slaves in the other West India Islands and the United States. The President has not been without hope that these questions might be settled by the spontaneous act of Spain herself, she being more deeply interested in such settlement than all the rest of the world. The questions what decision the United States shall make is a serious and difficult one, not to be determined without careful consideration of its complex elements of domestic and foreign policy, but the determination of which may at any moment be forced upon us by occurrence, either in Spain or Cuba. Withal, the President cannot but regard independence and emancipation of course as the only certain and even the necessary solution of the question of Cuba, and in his mind all incidental questions are quite subordinate to those, the larger objects of the United States in this respect. The President does not meditate or desire the annexation of Cuba to the United States, but its elevation into an independent Republic of freemen in harmony with ourselves and with the other Republics of America. The policy of the United States in reference to Cuba at the present time is declared to be one of expectancy, but with positive and fixed convictions as to the duty of the United States when the time or emergency of the action shall arrive.

A Threatened Difficulty Settled.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—The threatened lockout of puddlers from the iron mills have been averted by a compromise, the manufacturers to pay five dollars per ton for puddling for the next thirty days, and after that the price will be regulated in accordance with prices paid in the East. This agreement has been arrived at in consequence of the difference of opinion between employers and workmen regarding the pay for bailing in eastern cities, the iron masters contending that puddlers there only received $4.50, while eastern mill owners pay five dollars. During the thirty days our mills are to be run at the puddlers' compromise price the matter will be investigated, and it is stated that both parties will willingly have the question of wages settled by the result.

Foreign Matters.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—In the British expedition against the piratical natives of Congo River, the entire squadron of the West Coast of Africa was engaged. It sent boats up the river, many villages were destroyed, and a large number of natives killed. The British lost one killed and six wounded.

A special dispatch from the Master says the members of the Consular Commission were unanimous that Turkey cannot pacify the Hersegovinians. Foreign intervention of some form is deemed indispensible.

The Times estimates that two hundred mariners and others were drowned in the North Sea by storms in the past three weeks.

Supposed Mutiny on Board a Vessel.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The mail steamer African brought eight of the crew of the ship John Pascall, who reported the Pascall abandoned while burning three hundred miles from St. Helena. The crew was picked up by the ship Victoria, bound to Boston, but the Victoria being short of provisions these eight were sent ashore in an open boat at Ascension. The captain, officers and the remainder of the crew, proceeding on the Victoria. The stories being confused and conflicting, they are detained, suspected of mutiny, desertion and probably murdering the officers.

A Pagues dispatch says that a force of 1,800 Turks were defeated recently while attacking a strong insurgent position near Zubcio. The Turks had 150 killed while loss of the insurgent is killed and wounded was only twenty.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Fighting in Africa—an "Impudent Humbug"—The Turkish Difficulties.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Advices from Cape Palmas, west coast of Africa, of the 11th October, says a Liberian force of 900 attacked some native villages and were repulsed, losing 24 killed and wounded and their cannon. The trouble resulted from the Liberian law prohibiting direct trade between natives and foreigners.

The Times' financial column denounces as an impudent humbug the scheme advertised here for floating a half million sterling worth of bonds on the Keokuk and Kansas City Railroad.

The Times has a leading article on the utterance of the official Gazette at St. Petersburg that steps must be taken by foreign cabinets to strengthen confidence so that the Porte can fulfill promises. The Times says: "We presume Russia thinks the conference of the great powers should review the treaty of Paris and examine into the state of the Turkish empire. If a verbal pressure is all she has in view it can better be done by dispatches than by the conference. If she means more serious intervention it must go so far to be effectual that it would raise the Eastern question in a peculiarly formidable way. England is not prepared to take so immense a responsibility in the present unsettled state of Europe."

Moody appoints a day of Fasting and Prayer—Explosion of an Engine with Fatal Results—Tweed's Case.

NEW YORK, Nov 1.—Moody proposed that Nov. 4th be appointed a day of fasting and prayer for God's blessing. Carried by a standing vote of 3,000 people. Unanimously resolved that the United Churches of America be requested to observe the day.

All C. Bowen's suits for libel against the Eagle, Thomas Kinselia and Jas. McDonnot aggregate $250,000. Set for November 8th in the Brooklyn Courts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Aspirants for the speakership are working quietly but earnestly. Among those most prominently spoken of are Kerr, of Indiana, Randall, of Pennsylvania, Wood and Cox of New York, Taylor, of Ohio, and Knott of Kentucky. The friends of Mr. Kerr have very favorable news for him from nearly all sections.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR THE

PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMP'Y,

OF PHILADELPHIA.

This Company is purely mutual. No stockholders to absorb profits. Every policy holder is a member of the Company, entitled to all its advantages and privileges, having a vote at the annual election for Trustees. It is the easiest Company to work because it gives satisfaction to its patrons, for the reason that it has declared MORE DIVIDENDS IN NUMBER and of a LARGER AVERAGE PERCENTAGE than any company in the United States. Official reports show this. For example: Policy 16, for $5 000, has been paid to the widow of a Philadelphia merchant, upon which twenty-three dividends had been declared, averaging (57) fifty-seven per cent. This Policy, at the end of 23rd., had the dividends been used to purchase additional insurance, would have been worth $11,046 Any reliable agent who wants to work for this Company will address
